Green Answers Majestic On Machinery Purchases

Roland H. Green, county superintendent of highways, speaking before the board of supervisors Thursday night, challenged statements made at the previous meeting by Supervisor George Majestic, (D) of Gardiner, in reference to proposed purchase of machinery by the highway department during the coming year.

Majestic, reading from the proposed budget submitted by Green, had maintained that machinery items could be purchased through the "state contract" at considerable savings over the prices quoted by Green in his estimated budget.

Based on Gross Estimate
In reply Green told the board that "prices for the list of equipment are based, in fact on a gross price estimate as there is no guarantee of the condition of the proposed trade-in, if any, at the time the equipment will be purchased."

"There is no question but that in some cases the list price is in excess of that which will be paid by the county for the machinery purchased. A reference to last year's budget will verify this statement. Any funds remaining after the equipment has been acquired that is shown on the list of proposed purchases is then expended for additional equipment with the approval of the Machinery Committee or by resolution of the Board of Supervisors. This also can be verified by an inspection of the past records," Green said.

Green was extended the floor to speak on the subject after Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons (R), Woodstock, chairman of the Machinery Committee, had requested that Green be allowed "to answer some of the allegations."

Fitzsimmons said he had full confidence in the county superintendent of highways, and asked that he be given an opportunity to present some facts.

Following the discussion of machinery purchase, the matter of road oil purchase through the state contract, and purchase of other items again came up for long discussion when Supervisor Majestic spoke in defense of his statement made at the previous meeting of the board.

Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger (R) of Rochester also presented figures on the cost of road oil purchased locally or through the state contract.

Green said in effect, that the prices of items quoted by Majestic as listed in the state price list, were not of the type which the county sought to purchase and which were needed to do the heavier work which the county does.

A two wheel roller at a state price of $6,296 could not do the work a three wheel roller is intended to do, Green said, and he went through the list item by item comparing the machines and prices. He cited that the ten ton tandem type roller which cost the state $6,296, was designed for "rolling asphalt pavement" and was not suitable for construction through the state.

"I might also at this time point out that not only the rollers, but any other type machinery that a municipality might desire to purchase through the Bureau of Standards and Purchase would be advertised as a unit item unless it so happened that the specifications for the (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Report Yule Seal Sales at $30,176

Christmas seals sales, reached $30,176.45 this week, representing 93 per cent of last year's total, it was announced today by Robert S. Russell of Saugerties, seals sale chairman.

Russell said, "Ulster County's seals sale this year is headed for another successful record. In comparing this county's percentage with others in the state, we are keeping pace with the leaders. We expect when folks who have not yet sent in their contributions, do so, we will be able to report that we have sufficient funds to meet budgets for the important health program needs in the county."

Appreciation Resolution

At the Ulster County TB and Health Association board of directors meeting Tuesday, Russell proposed a resolution of appreciation for service rendered throughout the 1958 Christmas seals sale campaign by press, radio, postal authorities, merchants and businessmen throughout the county, theatre managers, New York Central Railroad, city and county officials, Ulster Advertising Company, and hundreds of volunteers and others who helped. The resolution was passed with resounding enthusiasm by the large number of members attending.

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., president of the association, paid tribute to Russell and town chairmen throughout the county for this outstanding report.

Former Cigar Firm Head Dies Friday; Was Banking Official

Thomas Attwood Horton, 82, widely known Hudson Valley cigar manufacturer, and vice-president of the National Savings Bank, Albany, died Friday at his home, 225 Albany Avenue.

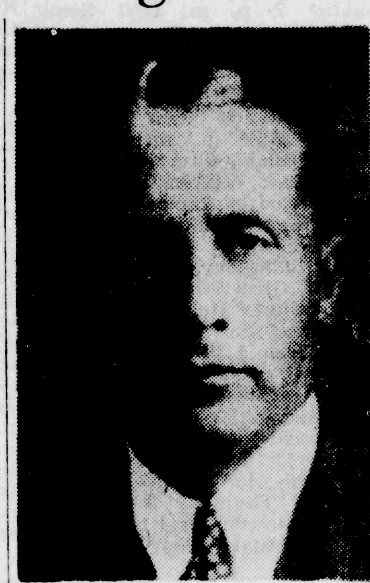

Prior to retirement in 1946, he was president of G. W. VanSlyke & Horton, cigar manufacturers of Kingston and Albany.

Wiltwyck School Acquires 114-Acre Yorktown Estate

According to Previews Inc., the National Real Estate Clearing House, marketing agents, "Dream Lake Farm" on Illington Road has been sold to the school by the Andre and Bella Meyer Foundation, Inc. The office of Janice Winterling, realtor, of Mount Kisco handled negotiations for the sale of the estate. The sale was reported to be at a figure close to the offering price of $265,000. The main residence, a two-story colonial of 13 rooms, has a 72-foot covered veranda and a long flagstone terrace overlooking extensive lawns and gardens. Industrialists Expect No Real Curbs From Congress

By WALTER BREED JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — Business indicators pointed higher this week as a Republican President urged a predominantly Democratic Congress to hold the line on spending.

The prospect of a tug-of-war between the White House and the new Congress left businessmen untroubled.

Of more immediate interest were such things as a booming stock market, a rising trend in auto production and sales, and a high rate of consumer spending in the economy.

Also of immediate concern were the continuing threat of more inflation and a tightening squeeze on U. S. business in foreign markets where the dollar seemed to be losing prestige.

President Eisenhower's call for economy in government came as (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

U.S. Help Criticized By Castro Says Washington Gave Batista Aid

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro said today he is sympathetic toward the people of the United States but he complained that the U. S. government armed dictators.

Pointing to tanks seized from fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista, Castro said Washington supplied them "and did not worry about our democratic feelings."

Glad for Recognition
The rebel leader added at a news conference, "I must recognize that the United States in the last year did not send arms to Batista. Now the United States has recognized us and we are glad."

All weapons shipments from the United States to Cuba were halted during the latter part of Castro's guerrilla war against Batista's forces. On Wednesday Washington recognized the government of Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro installed in office.

Would Check Urrutia
Castro said two or three dozen persons have been executed since he won. "Those who have been executed in eastern Cuba had abused the people," he said. "They all got trials in military courts."

Castro met newsmen after a leader of a separate rebel group asked checks on the power of Urrutia's government.

Castro publicly criticized him as a troublemaker, ostensibly because his group seized some arms earlier this week.

Faure Chaumont, a leader of the student-backed revolutionary directorate, wants a legislative group organized to prevent one-man rule during the provisional period.

Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro installed, dissolved Congress Tuesday on the ground it was packed with supporters of fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Chaumont also said Friday the directorate wanted free elections within a year instead of the 18 to 24 months that Urrutia and Castro have said would be needed to get Cuba back on an even keel.

Critical of Chaumont
Chaumont had maintained earlier that the directorate was not getting a voice in the government equal to what he claimed was its part in overthrowing Batista. Two members of Urrutia's Cabinet are members of the directorate, which consists mainly of students plus some backers of former President (Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

Schirick Is Fair, Stricken Friday

The condition of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, 68, who was admitted to Kingston Hospital early Thursday afternoon for observation, was described as "fair" today.

Justice Schirick was hospitalized after he complained of feeling ill while walking from the court house to luncheon in an uptown restaurant.

A former catcher at Cornell University and later manager of the Old Colonians in an earlier baseball era of the city, Justice Schirick is scheduled to be honored by the Old Timers Baseball Association at a testimonial dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday, Jan. 28.

Charles J. Tiano, chairman of the OTRBA dinner committee, said a meeting was held Friday evening and the dinner is still scheduled.

AAL Readies Planes, Pact Agreement Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines prepared today to get its planes back in the air as union chiefs gathered to act on an agreement to end the big airline's 22-day pilots strike.

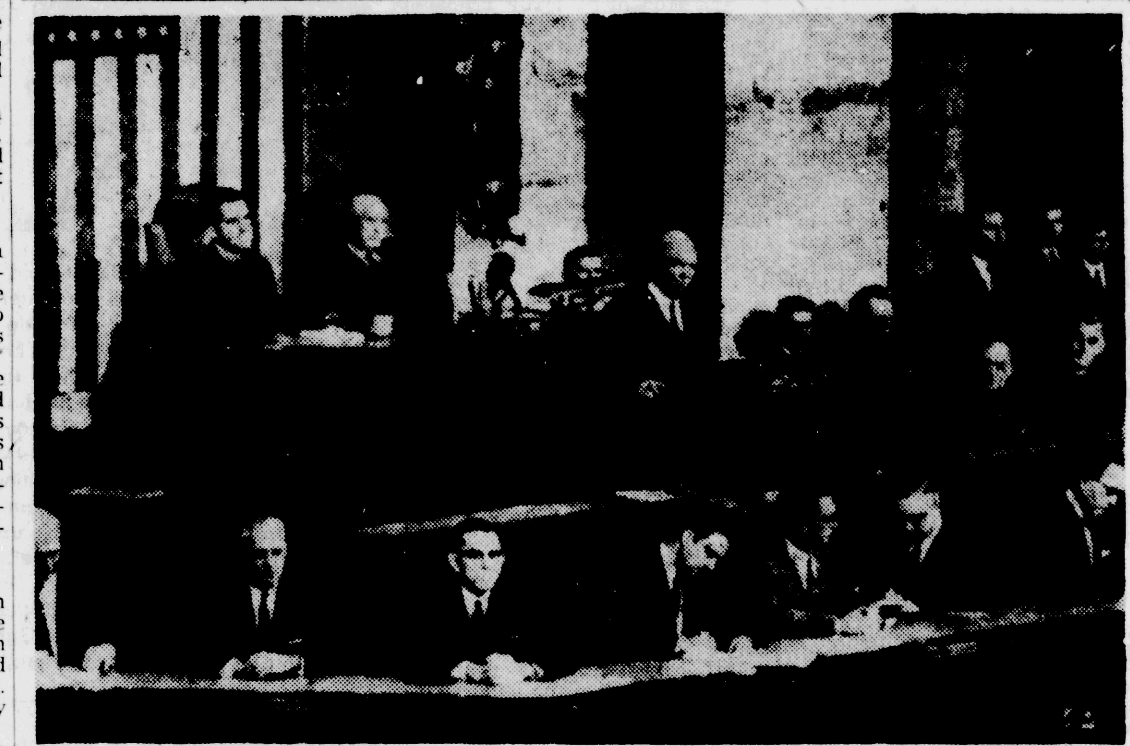

Anticipating speedy ratification, American began recalling furloughed employees and made plans to resume operations Sunday.

A settlement in principle of the dispute between American and the Air Line Pilots Assn. was announced Friday by federal mediators.

The union promptly summoned its 24-man master executive committee to meet here today to act on the agreement.

No details were announced pending agreement on specific contract language.

Claim Ike Not Bold Enough

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders made it clear today they plan to whip through their own legislative program without much regard to President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Although Eisenhower will not spell out publicly the details of his proposals until his Jan. 19 budget message, Democrats generally complained his State of the Union report Friday lacked the bold approach they contend is needed to meet swiftly mounting world problems.

Over Eisenhower's proposals "and then we'll write the ticket," party members unloaded an array of proposals of their own.

Twenty-six senators, led by Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.), sponsored a bill for federal aid to school construction and teachers salaries calling for a billion-dollar outlay in the first year.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) won Senate bill No. 1 designation for a federal aid to airports bill similar to that vetoed by Eisenhower last year. Monroney had 40 cosponsors for the measure.

Chairman Named For 1959 City Polio Campaign

Addison Jones, campaign director for the 1959 March of Dimes drive in Ulster County, today announced that Meyer Kaplan will serve as city chairman of the campaign which actually got underway the first of the year.

Working closely with Jones during the campaign will be Attorney William A. Kelly, who is Ulster County Chapter chairman.

Jones, in announcing a list of other city committee chairmen, said that this year's goal for Ulster County is $30,000. About $27,000 was raised during last year's drive, he pointed out.

More Work Ahead
"We're confident that our workers, as well as contributors to this worthy cause will again make the city and county campaign one of the best in the state," Jones added.

He referred to the national goal of $65 million dollars and said "we in Ulster County and Kingston must do our part if this U. S.-wide goal is to be achieved. A lot has been done in recent months to begin the knockout of this dreaded disease but there's still a long road ahead and only through our contributions can we hope to realize this," the campaign director said.

Will Meet With Meyner Later

Rockefeller met with Meyner last December to discuss mutual interests. The February meeting will be concerned only with transportation, Rockefeller said.

The New York governor and Ribicoff discussed income taxes imposed by this state on non-residents who work here. Rockefeller said he has not had time to become thoroughly familiar with state taxation of non-residents.

Said Ribicoff, smiling: "You might as well know that each time we meet I'm going to bother you with this problem."

From a philosophical point of view, Ribicoff said, he and Rockefeller "are not too far apart on a great many things."

Transformer Blaze Cuts Power in City

Fire in a Grand Street transformer of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. caused considerable excitement early Friday evening when it short-circuited the fire alarm system at Benedictine Hospital and touched off a power failure over a wide section of the city.

Firemen were called at 8:02 p. m. when it was reported a transformer near 23 Grand Street was on fire and had ignited a utility pole. Equipment from Central Station responded and dry powder was used to extinguish burning oil from the transformer while a booster line was used on the pole.

Rush to Hospital
The fire caused a short circuit in the fire alarm system at Benedictine Hospital and all equipment in the city was dispatched. Three police patrol cars also were sent.

Police headquarters reported a power failure there and reports of similar trouble in the Pine Grove Avenue section, the uptown area and the Lucas Avenue Extension area in the town of Hurley. A blotter notation said headquarters was deluged with telephone reports for 15 minutes.

Central Hudson today reported a two-minute interruption in service to the uptown area, and the Lucas Avenue Extension area in the town of Hurley.

Sees Positive Act
The Tass statement went on: "The conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany would play a positive part not only in safeguarding peace in Europe but also in solving the all-national task of the German people: the unification of Germany."

The note of the Soviet government to the governments of the U. S. A., Britain and France also replied to the notes of these governments on the Berlin question and again expresses the desire to settle the Berlin question through the states concerned.

Asks Wider Scope
The U. S. reply to the earlier Soviet note had said Berlin should be discussed "in the wider framework of negotiations for a solution of the German problem as well as that of European security."

The envoys of the three Western powers were called separately to the Soviet Foreign Office to receive copies of the 12-page note with the draft treaty enclosed. India's chief of mission and the East German ambassador also got copies.

One envoy said he believed this draft had been circulated in the West previously.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman declined comment until the note and draft treaty had been reported to Washington.

Ellenville to Vote Manager Monday

The village of Ellenville will vote Monday on whether or not to employ a village manager.

A public hearing on the proposition was held in November at which time the general feeling appeared to favor such a system. Paper ballots will be used.

The salary of such an official would probably not exceed $7,500 a year, it is reported.

The city manager form of government is based on the theory that a city, or village, is like a corporation and should have a single responsible full-time head. The position of mayor in the present political set-up is held on a part-time basis.

The village manager would handle all hiring, firing, purchasing and coordinating of the various departments and function of village government.

The village needs a new sewer plan, improvements in the water plant, etc., and, according to Mayor Eugene Glusker, a full-time manager would be of tremendous importance in handling these and many other problems arising in the rapidly developing village.

Would Meet In Prague Or Warsaw Drafts of Treaty Submitted to West

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today a German peace conference in Prague or Warsaw within two months and gave representatives of the Western Big Three drafts of a peace treaty.

The government also "expressed a desire to settle the Berlin question," the Soviet news agency Tass said. It gave no details.

Are Reply to West

The Soviet notes were in reply to Western rejections of an earlier Soviet note. The note of Nov. 27 had proposed that the United States, Britain and France pull their troops out of West Berlin, leaving it an unarmed free city.

In similar Western rejections, the three nations suggested that a Big Four conference be called to consider the whole German problem, including reunification.

There was no immediate indication which nations the Soviet Union intended should meet in Warsaw or Prague.

For Big Three, Allies

However, Tass said the Soviet draft treaty proposal was given the Western Big Three "for transmission to governments of these states and other states who took part with their armed forces in the war against Germany, as well as to the governments of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany) and the Federal German Republic (West Germany)."

The West has refused repeated Soviet suggestions that it sit down with East Germany to discuss a peace treaty or reunification. The West contends that the East German regime is illegal because it does not have popular support and therefore does not deserve a place in discussions.

Sees Positive Act

The Tass statement went on: "The conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany would play a positive part not only in safeguarding peace in Europe but also in solving the all-national task of the German people: the unification of Germany."

Rocky, Ribicoff Discuss Problems Facing 2 States

NEW YORK (AP)—Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut chatted about mutual problems Friday.

Ribicoff, a Democrat, termed Rockefeller "a real nice guy—one I will be able to work with."

Rockefeller, a Republican, said the talk was "pleasant and fruitful—the meeting was just a happy, general get-together."

Both governors decided to meet again next month when Gov. Robert A. Meyner of New Jersey can join them.

Rockefeller met with Meyner last December to discuss mutual interests. The February meeting will be concerned

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

"Every time I hear of any child drowning I cry, for this could have been avoided if the youngster had been taught to swim."

These are the words of Gertrude Ederle, who 32 years ago became the first woman to swim the English Channel and now spends her time teaching children how to swim, trying to give back a measure of the triumph that life has given to her.

In her famous swim, training, courage and faith made her carry on when a storm suddenly erupted in the channel, churning up 15-foot waves. The red ball of warning went up for small craft. Her father bargained with the captain of the escort tug to continue. But her trainer asked her to give up.

"Quit?" she answered. "I came here to swim the channel not to attempt it."

As the storm raged and fatigue racked her body, Gertrude Ederle silently prayed: "Please, God, if it be Thy will, give me the strength and courage to carry on."

Former Resident Named to Ridge Methodist Charge

REV. LESTER FINLEY

A native Kingstonian recently returned from the Methodist mission field in India has been appointed to the Stone Ridge Methodist charge. He assumed his pastorate Sunday and will move, with his family to the Stone Ridge parsonage during the week of Jan. 18.

In August of last year the Rev. Mr. Finley completed a second five year tour of duty in India. Since that time he has been living in New Haven, Conn., while working on his STM degree in the field of religion and higher education at the Yale Divinity School.

During his second stay in India the Rev. Mr. Finley was at Kodai Kanal in the southern part of the country. He served as chaplain at a school for missionaries and government people, and taught in the high school there.

Born in Kingston
The Rev. Mr. Finley was born in Kingston and spent his boyhood here. He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1934. During high school days he was a member of the football team, glee club, orchestra and dramatic club.

He received his bachelor of science degree in physical education from Springfield College, Springfield, Mass. While in college he was on the varsity wrestling team, fencing squad, glee club and drama club. During the summers he served as playground director for the Kingston Department of Recreation.

After college he served for a year in the Flatbush Branch of the Brooklyn YMCA before deciding to enter the ministry. He took his theological training at Drew University, Madison, N. J., where he received his BD degree in 1946.

Enters Mission Field
During this time the Rev. Mr. Finley decided to go into the mission field. He attended Kennedy School of Missions, Hartford, Conn., in 1946 and 1947. He and Mrs. Finley were commissioned in 1947 by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Church and sailed for India the same year.

They returned to the United States in Dec. 1952, for a 16 months furlough, returning to India in March, 1954. During the furlough, the Rev. Mr. Finley did graduate work at Union Theological Seminary, New York.

The Rev. Mr. Finley will serve the Kripplush, Accord and Stone Ridge Methodist Churches in his new charge. He replaces the Rev. George I. Goodwin who was recently assigned to the Cold Spring-Garrison charge. The Finleys have five children: Christine, 11; Kathleen, 9; Carol, 7; Carlina, 4 and Lester III, 2. The Rev. Mr. Finley's mother, Mrs. Maude Finley Deming resides at 16 Van Gassbeck Street.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
FORTUNE'S TWO HANDS

One of the things most mortals rebel against, sooner or later, is that this life of ours is not one long, uninterrupted blessing. Wouldn't it be wonderful, we think, if life could be "all sunshine"—as the song suggests, Shakespeare in his "King Henry" asks a pertinent question:

"Will Fortune never come with both hands full? But write her fair words still in foulest letters?"

And then he proceeds to line out the perplexing actualities he has in mind:

"She (Fortune) either gives a stomach and no food; Such are the poor, in health; or else a feast

And takes away the stomach." Just about the time in life when a man, through dint of arduous study and hard work, gets far enough up the ladder in his business or profession so that he can take two hours off for lunch, the doctor limits him to a bowl of soup and a glass of milk. (Who needs two hours to consume a bowl of soup and a glass of milk?) Shooting stars, who inflict limitations wouldn't help any. They only discover, with their trained eyes, the conditions which render the limitations necessary.

Life is like that. We are always having to take the bitter with the sweet. Life is a mixture of the wanted and the unwanted. That which we would choose is all mixed up with that which we would never choose. The poet asks hope's question:

"If winter comes can spring be far behind? That is a nice thought to perk up our spirits and inspire the creative courage to face the winter months. But some pessimist, wishing to get his neb in, could just as truly ask: 'If spring comes, can it be long before another winter?'"

Those who are lucky enough to be in a position to do it, can solve the problem of seasons by going south. But the problem of life has no such solution. There is no way, either practical or mythical, to cajole Fortune into coming with both hands full.

Many make the mistake of thinking that faith in God will insure the coming of Fortune with both hands full. But it won't. It didn't do that even for the One who lived a perfect life. The saints are not insulated against suffering; or exempt from all the thorny questions that tear the soul apart by their unanswerableness. One of the most important lessons we ever learn is that, even with faith, we must not expect that Fortune will come to us with both hands full. Someone has observed that "of middle age the best that can be said is that a middle-aged person has likely learned how to have a little fun in spite of troubles."

A little work, a little play To keep us going—and so, good-day! A little warmth, a little light Of love's bestowing — and so, good-night! A little fun, to match the sorrow Of each day's growing — and so, good-morrow! A little trust that when we die We reap our sowing! And so — good-bye!

Assessed Value Of Town $336,719 Over Last Year

The assessed valuation of real property including special franchises in the Town of Saugerties totals $7,307,992, an increase over last year of $336,719, according to the general tax table released this week by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The increased assessed value of property in the town plus economies in town administration costs has reflected in the lower town tax rate of $43.55, a decrease of 28 cents under last year.

The full valuation of Saugerties town properties including franchises based on the equalization rate of 20 per cent totals $3,539,960, a decrease of $150,951. The decrease this year was due to the higher equalization rate established for Saugerties. Last year's rate was 19 per cent.

This means that the town's properties are assessed at 20 per cent of full value.

The assessed valuation of real property in the town excluding the Village of Saugerties was $4,344,882, an increase of $279,875 over last year.

Village of Saugerties real property was assessed at $2,497,936, an increase of $8,880.

Increases in the assessed valuation of special franchises were also noted.

In the town, franchises totaling $265,375, an increase of $30,691. In the village franchises were assessed at $109,799, an increase of $17,273.

Assessed value of exemptions this year totaled $537,900, an increase of $66,650.

The town raises $299,184.69 in taxes which includes $73,500 for town highway purposes and $225,684.69 county quota charges.

Regents Science Diploma Available Starting in June

Beginning this June, graduates of Saugerties Central High School who are on a regents basis are eligible to qualify for a regents scientific diploma, according to an announcement in this week's "The Ulsterette," SHS newspaper.

The requirements as established by the State Education Department are:

Successful completion of regents examinations in sequence of mathematics including either the 11th year mathematics course or both intermediate algebra and trigonometry; also, successful completion of regents examinations in a three year sequence in science selected from earth science, biology, chemistry, and physics, which with ninth year general science constitutes four years or units in science.

Pupils who have completed the equivalent of ninth year science by the end of the eighth year and three of the advanced science courses listed above in combination with the specific mathematics sequence are entitled to receive a regents diploma designated as "scientific."

Any regents diploma earned by a pupil, regardless of designation, on the basis of an average of 90 or better in those regents examinations that are required for that diploma, may be designated as having been earned "with honor."

Auxiliary of Reformed Church Sets Meetings

Newly elected officers of the Ladies Auxiliary of Saugerties Reformed Church will be installed at a luncheon meeting Tuesday, 1 p. m. in the church meeting rooms.

A covered dish luncheon will be served prior to the installation.

Those to be installed are: Mrs. Madeline O'Neil, president; Miss Amelia Frank, vice president; Mrs. Richard Marchant, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Freilich, treasurer.

Mrs. Albert Smith is chairman of the meeting.

Freshman Ability Tests Scheduled

In order to help parents understand their children's scholastic abilities and potentialities, and help students understand themselves, the Iowa tests of educational development will be administered to all Saugerties High School freshmen January 20.

The tests will be administered under the supervision of Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, and Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor.

The testing program covers nine important aspects of fundamental development in four major areas: the ability to understand and use the English language; the ability to do practical everyday arithmetical reasoning; knowledge of both natural and social sciences; and the ability to think straight about common problems in these fields.

Results of this program will show the scope of each student's background knowledge and the extent to which his scholastic abilities have already been developed.

They will enable teachers to individualize instruction to meet personal student needs, and will give the guidance counselors invaluable information to help them counsel more effectively.

A self-interpreting profile, furnished each pupil to plot his own scores and those of his class average, and with other students of the same grade level nationally. The profile will also give a better understanding of how Saugerties High School is trying to provide the best education possible.

Slam Bidding Eased by JTB

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When your partner shows a two-suited hand and you hold four cards of one suit and two of the other the hand should look good to you. When you also hold all four aces a slam should be most likely.

South's two-diamond bid was the Jacoby transfer and guaranteed at least five hearts. His three-diamond bid showed a diamond suit and was a force to game.

With four diamonds and two hearts and all four aces North became definitely interested in a slam in spite of only having 16 high-card points. He started proceedings by bidding three spades. This had to be a slam try because obviously the hand was not going to play in spades.

South's four-diamond bid showed at least five diamonds and since he had already shown five hearts North marked him with at least 10 red cards. Furthermore, since South had forced to game North knew that he had to have some high cards in his suits.

North decided to bid at least a small slam and now showed his club ace by bidding five clubs. South made his cheapest bid—five diamonds and North went to six only.

If everything had broken perfectly, seven would have made, but the hearts divided 4-2, and the best North could do was make his little slam.

RUSSIA'S 'MOON SHOT'

By sending a rocket beyond the earth's gravitational pull and into orbit around the sun, the Soviet Union has shown the world that the race for outer space is a sharpening struggle.

The Russians, to be sure, missed their primary goal, which was to put the rocket into a path around the moon. But they fired their shot farther from the earth than any other man-made space object has ever traveled. And they greatly outdistanced America's two tries at the moon.

There can be no question that this is another major advance in the conquest of space, and that it is a victory the Russians felt they badly needed.

The world has widely hailed America's success in hurling into orbit the huge, talking Atlas missile. More than any other thing we have done in the space field, this persuaded millions abroad that we were abreast of our rugged Communist competitors.

The "moon shot" coming at this time is an obvious Soviet effort to recapture propaganda advantage. Russia lives by threats. And it cannot make convincing threats without the leverage of solid achievement.

In the experts' view, the Soviet long-distance rocket also was timed to coincide with the current U.S. visit of Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

There was no advance disclosure of the nature of his mission. But amid all the speculation, the notion persists that he will talk not only of Russia's effort to get the West out of Berlin, but of its reported desire for a new summit conference.

It was abundantly clear to Premier Khrushchev that tough Soviet talk here or anywhere would be discounted so long as the talking Atlas was orbiting unanswered. But a Kremlin that has just beaten gravity with its latest rocket may imagine Mikoyan will get a more respectful hearing.

Actually both he and the Russians have had for a long time the capacity to destroy each other in nuclear holocaust. Neither our circling Atlas nor Moscow's "moon shot" gives any special additional military strategic edge to either competitor.

It does indicate that the striving for that extra advantage is intense. Little more than two weeks elapsed between our latest leap into space and the Russians'.

The Russian achievement only underscores that we cannot rest for an instant in this race. We must press on at all levels, from the fundamental education of our youth to the special concentrations that will keep America thrusting successfully toward the outer reaches of space.

It would be wonderful if what the Russians have done could be greeted purely as a scientific marvel promising benefit to all mankind. But hostile communism's goals of conquest give all of its triumphs overtones of peril for free men.

With those frightening reservations in mind, the world acknowledges another great thrust by adventuring man into the mysteries of the unknown.

MONEY AND MOODS

January, which ought to be the most hopeful month of the new year, has a way of bringing a nagging sense of gloom. The combination of Christmas bills and income tax forms prods householders into analysis of family finances, and the figures are usually depressing. Ambitions for the new year, when lined up with probable income for the new year, may bring a disquieting sense of unreality.

Home money problems could be laughed off with the recollection that there always have been such problems, that life has been pretty good in spite of them. But there are bigger things to worry about.

Governors and state legislators are already groaning over their big-scale budget jams, and President Eisenhower has started the money hassle in Washington early by saying the federal government should be more frugal—in a year when demands for

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH

The economic advantage of Soviet Russia in its fight for commercial markets is that the Kremlin acts for all the countries of the Soviet Union State, whereas among the Western powers capitalistic competition continues unabated. It is the essential difference between the two systems.

Thus, Anastas Mikoyan comes to the United States and is entertained by Eric Johnston of the motion picture industry whose interest it is to sell motion pictures to Soviet Russia or anywhere else. He is a motion picture salesman, dealing with a customer. What Cyrus Eaton's capitalistic interest is not yet clear but it will soon appear. In a word, national policy and even national existence suffer before the urge to sell commodities, just as we sold scrap steel of which there was then a shortage in this country, to Japan on the verge of Pearl Harbor.

It is a characteristic of the capitalistic system to sell wherever there is a market, to friend or foe, unless restrained by government, and to regard a customer favorably whose terms of payment are satisfactory. It is characteristic of the Soviet system to relate trade to national policy, as everything is related to national policy. We need to understand this essential distinction.

The effort in Europe now is to organize to offset what is rapidly becoming a Soviet advantage, the Europeans having become increasingly conscious of their markets. Two systems are being developed:

1. The European Common Market which has been joined by the following six countries: France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Italy. This system eliminates tariffs and quotas among these countries, while maintaining them against others including the United States and Great Britain.

2. The British particularly object to the Common Market idea because it is disadvantageous to British trade on the continent of Europe and even more importantly, Great Britain has economic commitments to the members of the Commonwealth which she will not void. Therefore the British have proposed a continental free trade area which would include these countries: France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Italy, the United Kingdom, Norway, Switzerland, Portugal, Iceland, Denmark, Sweden, Greece, Turkey, Eire, and Austria. Such countries as Spain, Finland and Yugoslavia would have a special status and the United States and Canada would in some way become affiliated, although how the United States can do it constitutionally is to be seen.

At any rate, these ideas envision the political doctrine that united we stand which is without doubt correct. For if the Western powers do not find some way of uniting in this economic war, Russia, employing its large gold resources, will damage us more than it can do with a dozen Luniks.

The particular American difficulty is that it has already outpaced itself in world markets and its products can only compete with those of other capitalist countries by being manufactured in those other countries. If Senator Estes Kefauver and others who intend to investigate American business really wish to know and tell the truth, they will look into this situation which is rapidly leading to an economic tragedy. The flow of American capital abroad is not any longer related to aiding our weakened allies but is designed to protect American capital from being dissipated by inflation and at the same time to keep that capital competitive in world markets. There seems to be no better way to do that than to manufacture in countries where wages and other costs, including taxes, are reasonable and price can be set which has some relationship to reality. American dollar prices, when translated into the currency of other countries, are so high as to be non-competitive even for goods which heretofore have been American specialties.

The British who have, since Elizabeth I, been the watchdogs of European capitalism, are working to achieve a free trade European market whereas the French, who have generally been protectionist, are the protagonists of the common market within which there will be free trade but which will be protected against competition from outside. Undoubtedly Mikoyan is opposed to both ideas but it seems as though the countries of Europe are not as scared of Russia as they used to be. Maybe that is why Mikoyan has come here to make his deals.

Les Enfants Can Perfect Their Own Language, Too

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A young friend recently returned from Paris where she'd been studying on scholarship.

She loved the city and is obviously pressed by a need to keep reminding me that her past year's experiences have been different from mine, more exciting, much more exotic. She just can't say a sentence in English without sparkling it up with French words and phrases.

I say to her, "Be patient. Agencies often come up with unexpected teaching jobs."

Shrugging, Fan says, "Je m'en balance. Who cares? If I can't get a teaching job, I'll clerk somewhere. Je m'en fiche."

I say, "Fie! All you like—but keep in touch with the agencies."

"Oh, zut!" says Fan. "Nuts to them. But merci bien anyway. Je t'adore, ma petite."

What's my point?

Tonight your 8-year-old, preparing to brush his teeth, will drop the cap of the toothpaste tube. Exactly duplicating the half-defiant, half-patronizing tone Fan uses for her French interjections, he'll give voice to a nasty four-letter word. You'll be shocked and unhappy.

So try to remember that his use of it stems from the same need that compels 23-year-old Fan to sparkle up her English conversation with words brought home from the Left Bank in Paris.

In Paris Fan discovered a new kind of fun with new friends. In school your Jimmy is discovering himself capable of a new kind of fun with new friends.

Fan and Jimmy both use the new friends' language to tell us that their experiences are now different from ours, more exciting, much more exotic.

As Fan is letting me know that I'm a fuddy-duddy to be confined to the dullness of the English language, so Jimmy is letting you know that you're one to be confined to the dullness of a "Darn!" when you drop a toothpaste tube cap, and that he has much more colorful words at his disposal.

He's declaring himself to be a person who gets around where you don't.

Jump on him if you must. But not too hard. As Fan and Jimmy learn that we don't mind their having different experiences, they'll lose the need to insist on the difference.

funds are obviously greater than ever before.

There is a cheering note, however, in the economists' predictions for a mostly prosperous 1959. If they are right—if incomes increase a little, and most business thrives, and the country moves ahead in many phases of development—the money problems can be handled.

It will not be easy. It will require shrewd decisions at every level, personal and public. But the January gloom will be pushed aside as people become more absorbed with the positive business of seeing what can be accomplished this year.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA) The great mystery about Russia's First Deputy Premier Anastas Ivanovich Mikoyan is not so much why he came to the United States on an official visit.

It is how he has been able to hang onto his job in the Communist hierarchy, surviving purges, plots and violent changes of leadership in the Kremlin for 41 years.

Mikoyan has just turned 63. He has been a Communist since 1915, when he was graduated from a theological seminary. That was two years before the red revolution of 1917. It makes him one of the few remaining old Bolsheviks still in power.

Russian experts here ascribe Mikoyan's secret of survival to his shrewd Armenian ability to "smell the breeze" and know which way the winds of Communist political chance would blow. He has shifted position accordingly.

THIS SHOWED ITSELF as early as 1922, when he was 27 years old. He was assigned to work with Klement E. Voroshilov in ridding the party of Leon Trotsky elements.

Possibly as a reward, Mikoyan was made full member of the Communist Party Central Committee in 1923. And three years later he was called to Moscow as Commissar of Trade. He was the youngest commissar at 31. This was in the NEP or New Economic Policy era in which he played a major role.

He became a technician, an economist, an administrator, a bureaucrat, a businessman in the Soviet sense. One interpretation of his record is that he survived because succeeding Communist leaders found they couldn't get along without him—Stalin, Malenkov, Bulganin and now Khrushchev.

In the bloody 1930's when Stalin was running the purge trials and executions which consolidated his position as dictator, Mikoyan sided with Voroshilov and Zhukov to keep Khrushchev in power when Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich tried to overthrow him, only to be ousted, themselves.

Mikoyan's speeches indicate that he repeats Khrushchev's boasts that Soviet Russia will surpass the United States in economic output. Mikoyan is considered the operator if not the architect of Russia's economic warfare policies against the U. S. throughout the world.

He is completely Communist.

He is crafty, he is flexible, he is smart. He has kept his head by not sticking his neck out at the wrong time.

After the war, Mikoyan remained a loyal Stalinist. He was busy in this period building up agriculture, food supply and the state trade network which today has nearly 500,000 stores and does 100 billion dollars' worth of business a year. Mikoyan is still boss of it.

IN 1936 MIKOYAN came to the U. S. for a three-months' coast-to-coast tour. He hired American experts and introduced American products and methods to advance Russia's industrialization.

Two years later the job of foreign trade commissar was added to his duties. He negotiated agreements with Germany during the Hitler-Stalin pact era.

When the Nazis attacked Russia, Mikoyan became one of eight ministers who ran the war production effort. He was virtual quartermaster for the Red army. He negotiated Lend-Lease agreements with the U. S. and Great Britain.

After the war, Mikoyan became a member of the Council of Commissars for economic rehabilitation of liberated areas with Georgi M. Malenkov. They reportedly differed on policy.

But when Stalin died in 1953 and was succeeded by Malenkov, he retained Mikoyan as deputy chairman and minister of foreign and domestic trade.

IN THE 1953-55 PERIOD, Mikoyan was responsible for building up consumer goods. But when Bulganin became chairman of the council of ministers and cut back consumer goods to place more emphasis on heavy industry, Mikoyan resigned or was dropped from his job as minister of trade. He was retained, however, as first deputy chairman of the presidium, overseeing both domestic and foreign trade.

The ousting of Bulganin and the rise of Khrushchev to chairmanship has made no difference in Mikoyan's standing. If anything, it is enhanced.

For Mikoyan sided with Voroshilov and Zhukov to keep Khrushchev in power when Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich tried to overthrow him, only to be ousted, themselves.

1959 Should Be Good Year for Stock Splits; Some Candidates Listed

Q-F. S., Massachusetts, asks "just what is a stock split and why does it make a stock move up? I own Great Western Financial which just split 2 1/2-for-one and the shares rose 14 points, although there was no dividend increase. I would appreciate seeing a list of stocks that may be split in the coming year."

A. A stock split occurs when a corporation gives each shareholder an increased amount of shares, the par value of which has been correspondingly reduced. A 2 1/2-for-1 split, as in Great Western, will give you 1 1/2 additional shares for each share you hold but will not increase your proportionate interest in the corporation. Of itself, a stock split is of no benefit to a shareholder since it simply gives him two or three pieces of paper in the place of one held before.

There are three reasons why a stock moves higher when it is split. There are (1), splitting the shares brings the price of the stock down to a lower and much more popular level, (2), a stock split is usually accompanied by a dividend boost and (3), a split indicates a company's wide publicity and brings new buying power into a situation that has hitherto been neglected. In the case of Great Western, no dividend raise is intended so factor (2) does not apply. However, at present levels the indicated price of the split shares will be in the low 30's where there is more buying interest.

Also, the split dramatized the fact that Great Western is a unique financial enterprise that enables you to share in the profits from savings and loan operations in California. Hence the rise in price of the shares.

I will be glad to give you a list of candidates for stock splits in the year ahead. Before I do so, I would like to give you a word of warning. Don't buy stocks solely on the grounds that they may be split. And would be very careful about buying any issue that has run up sharply in anticipation of a split. Now for a few likely split candidates.

Two Rubbers Are In Line
Two of the four major rubber companies, Firestone and Goodrich, are about due to split their shares again. Both took similar action in 1955 and in 1951. Whether or not they split, both stocks are excellent growth purchases. A particularly good candidate for a split would be Bell & Howell. This company is a leading manufacturer of high-quality movie cameras and still cameras. There are only about 655,000 shares of stock outstanding, much of it closely held. I believe this is a good stock to own, and if it splits, it will be an even better one at a lower price level.

Some Lesser-Known Candidates
Among lesser known companies that may take split action, I would include American Photocopy. The company makes equipment for reproduction of single copies of material. This is a very fast-growing segment of the office equipment field, and American Photocopy has been growing rapidly with it. Earnings have moved up steadily since 1952 and were up 23% in the nine months ended last Aug. 31. There is a relatively small capitalization and with the stock up now in the 70's, a split looks logical. This is a very good little growth stock, whether or not it splits.

Note that Warner-Lambert has decided not to merge with Reynolds Tobacco. I like the prospects of a stock split in this situation. Like American Photocopy, Warner has never split its shares. The company is a very aggressive unit in the field of cosmetics and has increased its position in ethical and proprietary drugs. There has been a steady rise in earnings and dividend, hence since 1951. You can buy this issue as a sound growth holding, with a chance to improve the market value of your holdings if a split should eventually come. In the same general category, I would include Merck, a mighty good stock to own. Merck split 3-for-one in 1951, 2-for-one in 1949 and 3-for-one in 1941. Looking at its rising earnings and high price level, it seems to me that history may be about to repeat itself.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 9.—Every reader of my weekly column knows two things: First, that I have just returned from a 20,000-mile trip to Africa; and secondly, that I am not a physician and have not the right to speak with authority on health.

I have had some rheumatism in my left leg, and Mrs. Babson has had some bursitis in her shoulder. We have been to nine doctors and all have told us: "Forget it. Almost everyone your age has aches and pains."

The above doctors' comment may be true; but this is what I know! After two weeks on a cargo steamer which time I had no mail, no cables, and no telephone calls, my rheumatism went away entirely and Mrs. Babson had no bursitis.

I exercised considerably, walking on deck, and went to bed early leaving my portholes wide open. In fact, my cabin had good cross ventilation, and the time spent on the ocean and in the wilds of Africa, we were free of all aches, we "ate like pigs, and slept like babies." Upon returning home, I found my desk piled with mail; whether my rheumatism will return I do not know! But my guess is that many such aches are due to the unnecessary busy and nervous lives we lead.

Doctors should tell us to take our religion more seriously and practice more of Jesus' teachings against struggles and worries.

Is Warm Weather Climate Sufficient?

Many feel that if they go to some warm climate in the winter, it will solve their health problems. Perhaps so; but probably not, if they continue to receive too much mail, use the telephone too freely, and enter the custom-made social life of southern winter resorts. I have a definite illustration in this connection which shows the need of exercise both in the house and in the fresh air. Let me tell you about this.

Among my acquaintances is the widow of a former president of one of the largest chemical companies in this country. They had a beautiful home in Florida and were very wealthy. She suffered greatly from arthritis in her hands. She finally sent North for the nation's most famous specialist in arthritis to come to Florida and spend a few days in her home where she was living with her six servants. When he returned North, the doctor left the following prescription:

A Specialist's Prescription
"Sleep with windows open and a fan blowing in your face, as if you were sleeping on the deck of a steamer. Neither give nor attend cocktail parties, and always leave the dinner table a little hungry."

Then the specialist added: "Most important of all, after each meal let your hands soak in hot water for 15 minutes, as if you were washing dishes! Each morning, go out on the lawn and stretch as though you were hanging clothes to dry on a line! Finally, get an indoor bicycle to ride, and discharge five of your six servants, including the chauffeur! In about a week make a bill for one thousand dollars.

Something I Do Know About

Africa is a most wonderful continent, rich in all natural resources except oil. It has four strong banks with hundreds of branches; these pay 4 1/2% interest on time deposits. Africa has wonderful stores and factories of all kinds in such cities as Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, and especially Salisbury in Southern Rhodesia. In Johannesburg, 65 years ago, there were only a few people and they all lived in tents. Today the population is six hundred thousand, and there are dozens of skyscraper buildings.

If I were a young man, I would seriously consider settling in Africa for health and a fortune. I would rid myself of diamonds and gold, but invest in either the copper industry or the chemical industry. I am sorry to say that Africa, unlike Canada, is on the pound-shilling-pence basis, which handicaps Americans who would like to invest therein. When, however, Africa goes on the decimal system, like Canada, there will be even greater opportunities for both investment and profit. In conclusion, let me say that one need not take sea trips to Africa for either health or investment. Many states in the good old U.S.A. offer both to those who are thrifty, honest and patient.

A—About 20,000. Almost 2,000 people perished in the disaster.

Q—Why are the Piranha fish of the Amazon so dangerous?
A—Piranhas are only 12 or 18 inches long, but they are dangerous because they attack in great numbers. Thousands of them travel in a group.

Board Meeting
 "Girl Scout District 1 has achieved the unique distinction of closing the year of 1958 with a perfect record in registering all troops within its jurisdiction on time," Mrs. Jerry Blair, Council field director, told the members of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., at a meeting held recently at the Governor Clinton Hotel. In expressing the commendation of the Girl Scout professional staff and the Board to Mrs. Kenneth Martin, district chairman, Mrs. Blair added, "this is an outstanding record and is a goal that all districts should strive toward."

One of the Girl Scout districts, District 1 is comprised of the Ontario, Saugerties and Woodstock Girl Scout Neighborhoods. Sharing in the unusual achievement are the following troops: Brownie Troop 80, Ontario School, Paul Joyce and Mrs. Howard Hopkins, leaders; Brownie Troop 82, Bearsville L.O.O.F. Hall, Mrs. Duncan Wilson, Mrs. Cora Kuypers and Miss Gail Adler, leaders; Brownie Troop 83, home of Mrs. George Reflett, Mrs. Robert Castle and Mrs. Reflett, leaders; Brownie Troop 85, Town Hall, Allabon, Miss Ethel Riskey, leaders; Brownie Troop 88, home of Mrs. Dolores Wilson, Mrs. Richard Haberstroff, leader; Intermediate Troop 86, Ontario Central School, Mrs. Arthur Henkel, Mrs. David Fishberg and Mrs. Raymond Conklin, leaders; Intermediate Troop 87, Shandaken Firehall, Mrs. Raymond Conklin and Mrs. Martin Rubin, leaders; Intermediate Troop 89, Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, Mrs. Charles Schumacher and Mrs. Lars Risdal, leaders; Brownie Troop 27, Woodstock Elementary School, Mrs. T. C. Horsey and Mrs. Ben Merck, leaders.

Also Brownie Troop 44, West Hurley School, Mrs. Arthur Knight and Mrs. Aubrey Berry, leaders; Brownie Troop 46, Woodstock School, Mrs. John Blatter and Mrs. John Flood, leaders; Brownie Troop 45, Woodstock School, Mrs. Van DeBogart and Mrs. Dwight Bellinger, leaders; Intermediate Troop 12, Woodstock School, Mrs. Samuel Carroll and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, leaders; Intermediate Troop 74, Woodstock School, Mrs. Joseph Marr and Mrs. Charles Hughes, leaders; Intermediate Troop 79, West Hurley School, Mrs. David Few and Mrs. Herbert Bundy, leaders; Intermediate Troop 96, Woodstock School, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz and Mrs. Edward Gurland, leaders.

Organization Standards
 To bring the Council's 117 troops up to Girl Scout standards accepted nationally, the board took stringent action by adopting the revised set of troop organization standards presented by Mrs. Morris Kirk of Highland, Council organization chairman. A thorough study and evaluation of the council's present procedures by the county organization committee, together with a preliminary notification to its 500 adult scouts requesting further suggestions preceded the action. A full account of the newly adopted organizational standards for all troops will appear in the January issue of "Lines for Leaders," the council's official bulletin.

County Drive
 In the absence of Robert Greene of Woodstock, Council field director, Calvin Weygant Sr., of Marlboro, council president, announced that proceeds of the recent Fund-raising Drive conducted in the Kingston Community Chest area presently totals $5,543.50. "Although we did not attain the goal of $8,000 sought by the council to insure an adequate program in Scouting for its increasing girl membership of over 2,200, we feel that the campaign was extremely successful. The total proceeds represents a considerable increase over former county-wide drives."

Special tribute was given to the fund-raising drive chairman and the adult Scout volunteers participating in the campaign. The Rev. Justus Fennell Jr., of Highland, was county fund drive chairman. He was assisted by: Mrs. Harriett Allen Kern of New Paltz, honorary chairman; Robert Greene, Woodstock, drive coordinator; Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Kingston, public relations committee chairman and Mrs. William Plank, Marlboro, county publicity chairman.

Girl Scout Week
 During the business session, Mrs. Charles Griener, of Marlboro was elected recording secretary replacing Mrs. Lowell Popp, of Kingston; and Mrs. Herbert DuBois of Wallkill, was elected council program chairman, replacing Mrs. John Flood of Kingston.

Mrs. Buchring, public relations chairman, announced that a program series entitled "Adventuring in the Hand Arts," sponsored jointly by the CBS network and the Girl Scout National organization is being presented weekly by WRGB on Saturdays, 12:30-1 p.m. The series designed to stimulate and promote creative arts and crafts among the troops will conclude on February 7.

Tentative plans were formulated for the observance of Girl Scout Week in March and the annual council meeting in April. Both occasions will feature events in keeping with the Hudson-Champlain celebration. Leaders are urged to center interesting troop meetings during the mid-winter season around research and study of the Hudson Valley folkways.

Concluding the meeting, the following training schedule was announced: Service Team Training, District 1, Home of Mrs. John Majors, Woodstock, Feb. 10, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.; District 11, Kingston, District 3, Federated Church, Kingston, Jan. 12, 8 p.m.; and District 4, New Paltz, Jan. 28, 8 p.m.

Miss Rose Guadagnola

Miss Rose Guadagnola, 45, a life time resident of Glasco died Friday, January 9, 1959, at the New York State Department of Public Works indicated that department had never purchased a wagon drill so the equipment must have been purchased by the Bureau of Standards and Purchase for some county. He said, however, that the type rock, including quartz conglomeration that is to be contained with locally, required a heavier type of equipment.

The price of $14,136 quoted from the State contract for a truck and plow was for a 28,000 pound gross vehicle, while the county proposed a 32,000 pound gross vehicle class equipped with front plows and under body plows which is necessary under adverse conditions in the hilly country. "There is absolutely no comparison as to the amount of snow that a vehicle of this type will move as compared to the one so stated," Green said.

He cited the type he proposed was made in New York state, that spare parts are readily available.

In 1957 the county spent only $2,788.07 for repair parts for heavy duty trucks used to plow snow and in 1958 only $2,721.45. This represents repair parts for a fleet of 41 vehicles.

Says Criticism Unrealistic

He cited the Thruway experience in heavy snow and said this authority was purchasing heavier type of equipment which he recommended. Greene County and Columbia County have also bought the type recommended and he said many of the Ulster County trucks are of the vintage of 1930 and are still performing a days work.

"Criticism of machinery of this type is certainly unrealistic," Green said.

Highway mowers used by the county department are of a large type with a six foot cutter bar, and a heavier type of tractor is required than those specified in the State contract list, Green said.

As to trucks Green used specific figures on purchases.

In 1958 the state price for 2 yard dump trucks was $3,537. The county on a competitive bid basis bought four dump trucks locally for $3,345 each or $13,380 less than the state paid. Those bought locally were equipped with dual ratio rear axles.

In his budget Green said he proposed to buy six dump trucks at a total cost of $30,000 but had not specified the size.

Says Price Comparable
However Green said he could "assure you that the price that will be paid by the County of Ulster for these vehicles will be comparable or equal to that paid by the State of New York for similar vehicles." In addition to a monetary saving the county will also have the benefit of dealer service, which is not readily available for vehicles purchased under state bid.

In conclusion Greene said: "I might point out in reference to one item of equipment, dump trucks, that we still have far from sufficient to carry out our normal work. The funds expended by the county for truck rental has been criticised by the auditor and I have been endeavoring to cut down the number of outside rented trucks as funds become available."

machine coincided basically with that to be advertised for the Department of Public Works. Any equipment or machinery of a different type or different size would be submitted by the Department of Contracts and Purchase as an individual bid and as such would undoubtedly be bid in by a distributor within the bounds of the State of New York. Bids for these items are written very loosely and the equipment is furnished at a dealer's price with such discounts from list as he chooses to give. The resultant bill, I am informed would be, in some cases, comparable to the price of the local distributor in the home area of the community. I hardly think it would be economically sound for the county to buy, if it were possible, a two wheel Tandem type roller for $6,296 for the sake of buying it at a price when it is not the equipment to do the work for which it is intended or to buy any other equipment. It must also be borne in mind that there are no trade-ins of old worn out machinery on purchases made in this manner, and dealer service is practically nil," Green said.

As to Diesel Graders, another item mentioned by Majestic, Green said a grader could be secured for $9,958 from the state but it was a 22,000 pound grader with mechanical transmission, no hydraulic side lift on the mound board, and a mound board of 12 feet in length. The machine is equipped with a 100 horsepower gasoline motor and there are no hydraulic brakes. The mound board is capable of being reversed in position.

Failed to Do Job

Green said this type of grader had failed to remove heavy debris on a bank slide on Route 52 and the state had to borrow from the county equipment heavy enough to do that work.

Engaged in construction work, the county needed the heavy equipment and the last grader acquired by the county was one in excess of 25,000 pounds with not less than 16,000 pounds of its weight carried on the rear wheels. It was powered with a 125 horsepower diesel motor provided with a torque converter and a transmission of "constant mesh type with hydraulic shift." The mound board was reversible. This machine was purchased with a trade in in 1948 for $17,850. Machines could be purchased around $6,500, "but they would be of little use," Green said.

Purchase of "wagon drill" at $4,000 was criticized, he said, and it was said that they can be purchased through the state for $2,009.13. He said inquiry at the New York State Department of Public Works indicated that department had never purchased a wagon drill so the equipment must have been purchased by the Bureau of Standards and Purchase for some county. He said, however, that the type rock, including quartz conglomeration that is to be contained with locally, required a heavier type of equipment.

Snow is removed on the entire state system and practically 100 per cent of the county highway system with approximately 50 pieces of equipment. This totals over 400 miles of county road and 270 miles of state highway. It must be borne in mind that much of the state system now is in excess of two lanes which require the utilization of more than one piece of equipment to efficiently remove snow.

This year the state has indicated that the county shall send an additional portion of the state highway system. This information was not conveyed to us until the beginning of the winter season which spreads out our sanding equipment a little thinner than last year. The completion of the approach road to the Kingston Rhinecliff bridge will take place some time during the coming season which may require the removal of old operations and perhaps sanding for that portion of the state system by the county the coming season. This could thin out our snow removal and sanding equipment a little more.

The acquisition of machinery for the performance of our necessary operations has been done by me with one thought in mind, that based on past experience, I am acquiring the best equipment available for the jobs to be done at a price that I feel is justifiable and that the county can afford. Comparison with other counties with 415 miles of county road and over 165 bridges located in mountainous terrain will show that machinery costs are not excessive.

Majestic in reply said he had received the copy of the budget "only 36 hours before the board meeting" and had taken his facts from the budget and that the comparison figures had been taken from prices quoted by the State Department. He said the county could send specifications for required equipment to the state and they would "put it to bid."

Green replied that the state wrote its specifications. Majestic replied that he believed specifications for gasoline were the same and he also said road oil "to your specifications" could be purchased under state contract.

Says Delivery Assured

Green replied that if road oil was required at 25 locations on one day "would they deliver it?" Majestic said his experience had been that the oil would be delivered when and where needed.

Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger (R) Rochester, said he understood Gardner had purchased road oil through state contract and that Supervisor Majestic had said it was not necessary to file requisitions in advance. Terwilliger said he had been informed by the state that it was necessary "to file in November" for bituminous materials. It could be bought at "plant price" without a requisition. Terwilliger said was his understanding from the state that he received last April from the state.

Terwilliger said there was no "one price" for road oil under state contract, that the prices "vary with the item." Last year the price of oils varied from .1397, .147, .1597 and a special item was .2348 per gallon.

The entire state of New York, proposals for 1959 for road oil, heated, hauled and applied, there was listed the following political subdivisions, no counties: Four towns, Marlboro, Rosendale, Brunswick and Gardiner. Four villages, Owego, Lake Placid, Fort Plain and Rosendale. One city, Johnston.

Under agency regulations the contractor has up to 10 days to deliver, Terwilliger said. In regard to application of oil Terwilliger said under the state contract material might be applied on a half width of the pavement at one time and seven days before the balance is applied. He said however he considered this a "remote possibility" and felt the contractor would cooperate.

Prompt Delivery Vital

Terwilliger said he considered "prompt delivery" important "within hours after the road is ready" for oil and cited the inconvenience of shutting off a road longer than necessary for oil application. He said the discount could very easily be overcome by waiting for delivery.

Terwilliger said his town application rate of oil was approximately 1,000 to 1,500 gallons a day and a discount of 4 cents a gallon "would be overcome by waiting for only four hours" when a crew of men at $1.25 an hour was waiting for delivery of oil. He cited weather conditions and said oil should be on the job when the road is ready to receive it, that no superintendent of highway would apply oil on wet or damp roads. Contractors, hauling oil a long distance, would probably want to deliver larger quantities than his own town could use at one time, he said. The small number of political subdivisions participating in the State Contract provisions indicates the system is "not advisable," Terwilliger said.

Provisions of the law are "good on many items" Terwilliger said. His town buys gasoline and tires at the state price. Purchase of items that do not have "imminent labor costs which multiply by unavoidable delay," he said was good under the State contract law.

Up to Superintendent the matter, however, was not within the jurisdiction

Final Coat Will Fix Quality of Varnish Finish

No matter how much care and effort you put into a varnishing job, it's what you do to the final coat that determines the quality of the finish.

When the varnish is thoroughly hard, which means waiting at least one day and preferably two, rubbing with a fine grade of powdered pumice, mixed with water, will smooth out the irregularities. This rubbing should be done with a felt pad in the direction of the grain, the same as sanding. Two things will be accomplished: the surface of the wood will become very smooth and the high gloss of the varnish will disappear.

Additional rubbing, without adding any more pumice, will restore some of the gloss and can be left that way if desired. If you'd like a higher polish, more of the satiny variety, rub still more... this time with rottenstone mixed with water or rubbing oil.

In recent years, several different types of rubbing compounds have appeared on the market, designed to do away with the pumice and rottenstone procedure. However, they are not available in most regular hardware or paint stores and must be purchased from dealers who specialize in supplying craftsmen.

But whatever you use, remember that high quality varnish finishes are obtained by the professional because of what he does to the final coat.

The 'Prospect'... A Four-Bedroom Cape Cod

Rooms Seven
Bedrooms Four
Bathrooms One
Cubage 18,300 feet
Dimensions 32 x 26 feet

We must have a house with several bedrooms—and with plenty of closet space.

To meet this demand, now coming from many prospective builders, the Home of the Week Plan Service has designed "The Prospect," a Cape Cod variation which contains four good-sized bedrooms, 11 closets, and four tiers of built-in cupboard drawers for added storage space in the upstairs room.

For a family looking for an all-on-one-floor plan, this cottage would also suffice, for its upper floor could be left unfinished until a later date if budget limitations call for piece-meal construction.

Wing Gives Extra Floor Space
The house, with a wing at the right to give extra floor space to one of the first floor bedrooms, measures 32x26 feet. A lot with a 50-foot frontage would be adequate. The cubic content of the dwelling is 18,300 feet.

The house pictured was finished with painted clapboards and a black asphalt shingle roof, but the outside walls could be finished with shingles, painted or stained; or with brick or stone.

No garage plan is included.

but a garage and breezeway could be placed on the left of the house if the size of the lot permits.

The small gable treatment over the front door, breaking the long cornice line; and the large living room window, centered under the upper left dormer window, give a pleasing distinction to the front.

The picture window, and a fireplace centered in the other outside wall, are features of the living room. Corresponding with the archway to the front hall another arch, in the long inside wall of the living room looks into the 10x12½-foot dining room. Here built-in china cabinets flank a window at the rear.

A two-way swinging door connects dining room and kitchen. This latter is a 10x8½-foot room, well planned, with the refrigerator tucked in between two closets; the range placed at the end of an L-shaped working counter. A door with glazed top panel opens from the kitchen to a service entry, on the side of the house.

Hall Leads to Two Bedrooms
Across the dining room from the kitchen door is another door to a small L-shaped rear hall leading to the two bedrooms. A storage closet, a linen closet and the bathroom open off this hall. The cellar stairway descends from the dining room closed off behind a door.

Each of the first floor bedrooms has a large closet and windows on two sides.

In the full basement, the furnace is under the living room, and laundry equipment under the kitchen. This arrangement leaves the rest of the cellar free for any use the owners may wish to make of it.

On the second floor the stairs land in a short hall. Bedroom doors are at right and left of this hall, and a lavette is between the bedrooms. Each bedroom measures 13x12 feet; has windows on three sides, and built-in drawers tucked into the front eaves. The room at the left has two large closets; the one on the right, one.

This house should be fully insulated, with ventilating louvers in the gable ends. A site, facing from northeast to southwest is recommended.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Address requests to Home of the Week Plan Service, Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

'Brain' to Check State Tax Returns

ALBANY—The State Tax Department announced this week-end that all income tax returns will be subject to scrutiny by an "electronic eye" and "mechanical mind" to detect possible cheating or honest mistakes.

Joseph H. Murphy, president of the State Tax Commission, said use of the man-made "brain" would save some $400,000 in administrative costs and produce as high as $2,000,000 a year in additional revenue resulting from assessments on faulty tax returns.

Help Small Staff
Murphy said the new electronic computer, known formally as IBM 650, would "permit us to make better, more efficient use of our small audit staff," and added:

"It is more than good administrative procedure to benefit from the most efficient auditing possible. This equipment will give assurance to the overwhelming majority of taxpayers, who file painstakingly honest returns, that there is less chance for somebody else to cheat them, because that is the effect when somebody cheats on his return—he's taking money out of the honest taxpayer's pocket; he's cheating his neighbors, not the state."

A trial run during the past few months has already established the value of the new mechanical selection method, Murphy said, and the Tax Commission has now formalized its installation as a permanent fixture.

Check on 11 Counts
This means state tax returns for 1958, due next April 15, will get a lightning-fast machine check on 11 different counts before actual audit to see whether anything is out of line with normal expectations. If so, a detailed audit of the return by a tax examiner will follow.

At the same time, the machine will sort out the returns which appear to be correct. These will still get a fast arithmetical check, but premium time of trained income tax auditing personnel will be concentrated on returns which get a questioning look from the electronic eye. Certain returns will continue to get a detailed personal audit treatment, regardless of the machine, according to Commission.

Basement Now Popular Center For Activities

A new dimension in "subterranean" living enjoyment for homeowners is being stimulated by bigger families and a decided swing to home-centered recreation.

The basement, once used only as a place for the furnace and storage of mother's fall preserves, has been transformed into a popular center of many family activities, according to Otto F. Wenzler, architectural consultant.

"The compact, functional construction of today's space-economy home, designed to utilize every available foot of area for practical purposes to meet the needs of growing families, has transformed the basement into a bright, cheery location for the workshop of the do-it-yourself enthusiast, the family laundry and a recreation room, complete with lounge chairs, a snack table and TV for the younger members of the family," said Wenzler.

Resale Value

Realizing the powerful resale value of homes having a finished basement, Wenzler points out that builders are including tile floors, spacious windows, built-in laundry facilities and in many cases, a fireplace to add a cheery note to the recreation room.

Large windows, set at ground level in the foundation, admit an increased amount of natural light. In movable sash, the windows may be opened for ventilation.

Partitions

According to Wenzler, movable partitions of patterned glass are another popular feature in contemporary "activity" basements.

"In sections such as the do-it-yourself workshop, for example, where additional space is often needed to accommodate a large project, movable patterned-glass partitions can be arranged to give the necessary working area, effectively screening the section from the remainder of the basement without stopping the passage of light," Wenzler said.

Springs Replace Window Weights

Most new double-hung windows framed in wood have no sash weights. These trouble makers have been replaced by compact spring balances concealed in the frames.

The balances make the windows operate more easily than old-fashioned pulleys and weights.

Remove All Switches

Remove all electric switch and outlet plates when you paint a room. Paint these plates separately on newspaper, oiled paper or aluminum foil. If you paint them on the wall, your paint job will be marred the next time you take them off for any repairs. The painted edges will stick and break.

Car Cover and Tent

For summer camping trips is a car cover that converts into a tent big enough to sleep six adults. A British product, it's described as completely water- and rot-proof and resistant to abrasion. After it's removed from the car the plastic-coated fabric is mounted on a separate framework to form a tent.

You Can Leave

Clean Clothing Before Storage

It's wise to have clothing dry cleaned or laundered before storing it away in a cedar storage closet, to be certain it is free from moth larvae.

Clean clothing generally will be safe if brushed and aired for several hours before storage, but soiled or spotted garments should first be cleaned.

By making sure moths have not already attacked woollens and furs, you'll gain the full moth-repellent benefits of your cedar-lined storage closet.

Use Same Metals In Making Repairs

In replacing or repairing window insect screens be sure that the frame and screening are of the same metals. Don't use copper screening in an aluminum frame and don't fasten aluminum screening to a wood frame with copper tacks. Plastic screening goes well with all metals but different metals just don't mix.

Redwood Strips Best

Many terraces today are made of poured concrete with wood dividers which remain as part of the terrace. The best wood to use for this job is redwood and the wood should be covered with paper before the concrete is poured to prevent the concrete staining the wood. After the concrete is hard, the paper can be torn away. Other woods can be used for this job if they are treated with a wood preservative.

Newburgh Halts Kingston High School Win Streak, 66-59

Riley Gets 27 Points, Uhl Suffers Injury

By ED FALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

LeRoy Riley, Newburgh Free Academy's gargantuan cage star, put an abrupt halt to Kingston's pennant ambitions last night as he meshed 27 points and pulled in a bushful of rebounds to lead the unbeaten Goldbacks to a 66-59 win over the locals before a record breaking crowd of 1,456 at the Hilly City gym.

To make the first loss of the season even more of a blow to take, Joe Uhl, the sophomore scoring sensation, suffered an injury to his left ankle in the first minute of the fourth period. He tried to enter the game later in the quarter, but he could only hobble. His loss for any length of time will seriously hinder the KHS cause.

With the win by Newburgh and Ellenville's decision over Monticello, Kingston dropped from a first place tie to second place in the tight race.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Newburgh	6	0
Kingston	5	1
Monticello	4	1
Liberty	3	2
Port Jervis	3	2
Ellenville	2	4
Poughkeepsie	1	4
Fallsburgh	0	5
Middletown	0	5

Riley, a certain All-DUSO selection, was unstoppable. He only had ten points in the first half, and Newburgh only had a one point margin, 30-29, at the halftime intermission. However, in the third period, when the home side pulled ahead by as many as 11 points, LeRoy hit for five baskets and a pair of foul shots. Once he found the range outside, the Newburgh chances brightened.

Fast Start
The visitors broke fast in the opening period and with three minutes to play, had a 13-5 margin. Hobie Armstrong had five of the points (this total for the night) as he made a tap, a foul and then followed with a jump shot. Uhl had five on two one-handers and a charity toss. Charlie Williams canned a set shot and John Kelly had a free throw. By the end of the quarter, Newburgh had lowered the edge to five points, 19-14.

The score was knotted three times in the second period, the last tie being 26-26. Then Vinnie DeCervo made a layup for George Masterson's five. Kelly shot a foul toss for Kingston. Vinnie King swished a jump shot for NFA and at the buzzer, Williams pulled an underhand driving layup for the locals. They left the court trailing by a point, 30-29, after a sloppy first half.

Williams put his teammates ahead for the first time in the opening moments of the third period when his layup after an all court pass from Uhl made it 33-32, with six minutes to play in the period. Then Jack Coonan hit twice for Newburgh and after Williams refueled for KHS, Riley turned into a one man team as he made a one hander from the corner, followed with one from the opposite side and then made a driving layup by Riley made it 48-41 after the third period. Kingston was still very much in the game.

Uhl Hurt
The hopes tumbled in the first 45 seconds of the fourth quarter when Uhl fell to the floor in great pain. He was taken from the contest with his ankle swollen. In his absence, the home side surged again and with 5:35 to play, it was Newburgh by 13 points, 58-45. Uhl entered the game again at this point, but he was in only briefly.

Though the Goldbacks enjoyed a big edge throughout most of the last period, the visitors fought back. They came within seven points on two different occasions, but time ran out before the score got any closer.

Riley was clearly the best all-around player on the court. He had 10 baskets and seven foul shots for 27 points. But, above all, he did a tremendous job on the backboards the entire second half and his rebounding was the biggest factor in the win for the pre-season favorites. Coonan added 13 points to the Newburgh cause.

Williams led Kingston with 18 markers. Uhl added 13 and Bob Short had 12. However, the losers missed several easy shots after fast breaking against the Newburgh defense. It was just one of those nights.

Tom McCrosson had hot hands for the winners. He hit 10 baskets in 15 attempts and added a foul shot to finish with 21 points. Rugged Bruce Wiederspiel made 13 and Bob Shulman added 11. Gene Bilbaw had 16 markers for the losers.

Kingston Jayvees Win Sixth, 45-42

Al Brown made two pre-scheduled foul shots and Vince Smedes followed with another last night at the Newburgh Free Academy gym to lead Kingston High school's unbeaten Jayvee team to a 45-42 win over the previously undefeated Newburgh juniors. The win climaxed a tremendous comeback by Bill Hurley's cagers, who trailed by as many as nine points during the contest.

Entering the last period, NFA had a 35-31 margin. The home side quickly padded its margin and with a little more than five minutes left, enjoyed a 41-32 lead. Then the Maroon players started to nibble away. They moved ahead with 1:50 left when Joe Van Dyke hit with a one hander from the side. That made it 42-41.

Ben Kaplan converted a foul try for Newburgh to knot the score with a minute to go. Then came the winning points by Brown and Smedes.

Monticello's four game winning streak was rudely shattered by Ellenville last night as the Ulster county visitors shocked the Monties, 54-49 in a DUSO league attraction.

A Message From the Secretary of War

From Montgomery, Alabama, in 1861, Leroy Pope Walker, Confederate Secretary of War, sent General P. G. T. Beauregard a telegram which triggered the War Between the States. His famous message gave the General discretionary power to open fire on Fort Sumter.

The lawyer slowly shook his head. Lawyer--I'm sorry, madam, but I can't see that you have any claim against the insurance company for your husband's death. He had no policy on his life, but carried insurance only against fire.

Widow--I know. That's exactly why I had him cremated.

A vacation is what you take when you can't take what you've been taking.

Husband (to pretty wife) -- Why, darling, your face is quite red. Are you blushing?

Wife--Well, yes, a strange man just asked me for a kiss.

Husband--The nerve of him. You slapped his face, I presume? (as he roared indignantly)

Wife--No, I couldn't. I was afraid of hitting my own.

Cold Hugs East, Warming Trend Is Coming in Fast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing weather, guised under clear skies, clasped a tight grip over the eastern two thirds of the nation today but a warm air flow was kicking at its heels in the Plains and Rockies.

Cold air penetrated a wide belt from the Southern Plains to the extreme Northeast and Southeast, chilling the Atlantic seaboard and Dixie.

In the Northeast, it was quite cold with Boston reporting an early -13. Temperatures were not likely to rise more than the 20s during the day along many coastal line points.

Similar readings were the order of the day for the Midwest and Ohio Valley.

The warming trend, fed by a flow of southerly winds, was to reach the Mississippi Valley later today.

At midnight Friday, readings in the 20s were reported through much of the northern Rockies and from the Dakotas to Kansas. This marked a general 8 to 12 degree rise for many spots.

Snow flurries interrupted the clear sky pattern in the Great Lakes region and along the Appalachian Mountain range from northern Vermont to the Tennessee-North Carolina area.

Some precipitation spotted the West Coast from Washington into central California.

Local Man Hurt In Car Mishap

Officers Frank Monte and William Whalen reported Mrs. Ella M. Hines, 51, of 76 Garden Street, was driving a 1955 sedan south on Broadway and struck a car operated by William Bryant, 42, of 86 Gage Street, headed north on Broadway. Mrs. Hines told police the report said that she struck Bryant's car on the left rear and then struck a wall in front of St. Mary's Church. Hines was taken to Benedictine Hospital.

association met for the first time at their new headquarters, 124 Green Street, Dr. Holcomb reviewed the steps in the development of expanding program of the association during the many years the office has been at 74 John Street, and expressed deep appreciation to the Board of Supervisors for the space in the county's building, allotted to the organization over a period covering most of the 50 years since the founding of the voluntary health group.

A resolution was passed in memory of the late Harry S. Ensign by members of the Board. Mr. Ensign served as a member of the board of directors continuously from 1932 until the time of his death. He served as treasurer of the organization from 1932 to 1946, and as president of the board from 1946 to 1953.

Plan 50th Fete

Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director, gave the following report of program activities and services: for the rehabilitation committee which serves both the Ulster County TB Hospital and the Ulster County Infirmary; the Heart Chapter through which the rheumatic fever prophylaxis program and heart diagnostic services are carried on; the health education program which serves the professions and the lay public.

Plans were initiated for the celebration this spring of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the organization to carry on the fight to control tuberculosis. The first chairman of this voluntary group was the late Honorable Judge Joseph M. Fowler.

The annual meeting of the membership to be held in May was discussed. Dr. Holcomb said, "A date will be set in the near future. I hope people will plan now to attend this 50th annual meeting of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. This has become a traditional dinner meeting when members from throughout the county and representatives of many county organizations join together to review the past year's activities, elect directors and officers, and together consider aims and goals for the year ahead."

ness found their way into the legislative hopper before the 86th Congress was 24 hours old.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) introduced a national fair trade act permitting manufacturers to control retail prices of their products in all 49 states. Its avowed aim: to protect small retailers from "unrestrained cut-throat competition" in areas where state fair trade laws have broken down.

Other Capital News

Washington made other news this week. The treasury announced plans for marketing 750 million dollars worth of new 21-year bonds bearing four per cent interest. To make them more attractive, the government-backed securities will be offered at a discount that will yield investors a return of about 4.07 per cent. This may mean tough competition for corporate borrowers in the scramble for available investment funds, and a stiffening of interest rates all along the line.

New car sales in late December took an upward leap. For all of December, U. S. dealers racked up a sales total of nearly half a million cars — highest for any month since August 1957.

Auto production this week was estimated at about 132,000 cars, up 13 1/2 per cent from the same week last year. It would have been still higher except for a strike-induced shortage of windshield glass.

Furniture Orders Up

There was good news, too, from the winter furniture market in Chicago. Orders booked during the first few days of the giant show were up 20 per cent from a year ago, insiders called it the best market in years. One reason: people who bought new homes during the building boom of the mid-1950s are just getting around to buying new furniture now.

Stock sales totaled 20,837,601 shares in the first full week of 1959 compared to 15,040,560 in the previous week and 11,133,403 shares in the corresponding week last year.

Bond sales had a par value of $37,986,500 this week against $23,637,000 the week before and $24,674,000 for the same 1958 week.

Briefly over the business scene: Directors of the New York Central dashed cold water on hopes for a merger with the Pennsylvania Railroad. Studies looking to a merger had been under way for months. ... Department store sales last week showed a three per cent gain over a year ago. ... Record December sales were reported by Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery Ward. ... Steel production this week was scheduled at 2,109,000 tons — highest in 15 months.

The Assn. of American Railroads says "Class 1" railroads earned a net profit of 62 million dollars in November — up 17 million from November 1957. ... Outlays for construction last year totaled 49 billion dollars, with higher costs taking the credit for a two per cent rise over 1957. The government's estimate for 1959 is $2 billion. ... Reynolds Metals Co. defeated Aluminum Co. of America in a struggle for control of Britain's largest aluminum producer, British Aluminium Co. Ltd.

Plot Is Bared On Rhee's Life

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korean national police today officially confirmed reports of a North Korean Communist assassination plot against President Syngman Rhee and other South Korean leaders.

The report first came from Tokyo Friday, quoting a highly placed Korean source.

National Police Director Lee Sung Woo said the reported plot was connected with an earlier police ban on all outdoor meetings and demonstrations.

It was pointed out in Tokyo that such a story of an assassination plot could be deliberately circulated to justify recent police and government actions.

Lee said that "there always have been Communist plots to assassinate Rhee, but police just do not announce them because such information is unnecessary for the people."

Police late in November banned all outdoor meetings for security reasons, claiming they had obtained "information of a serious nature on Communist subversion."

Damage Is Heavy To Ellenville Area Home on Friday

A fire reportedly started by children playing with matches caused heavy damage to a two-story frame dwelling on the Berne Road about a mile and a half from Ellenville Friday afternoon.

The interior of the home, owned by Robert Conklin, was described as badly burned.

All occupants of the dwelling — the Conklin family and their four children and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coffee and their three children — evacuated the building without injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Conklin resided on the lower floor and Mr. and Mrs. Coffee on the upper floor. Troopers William Shurter and T. C. Waterman of the Ellenville state police reported that some of the children placed paper and leaves under the front porch and set fire to it. The children range in age from infants to about 12 years.

Coffee attempted to extinguish the blaze but high winds fanned it and it gained headway. No estimate of loss was available today.

The two families were reportedly staying with relatives in the area.

Fire broke out about 3 p. m. Equipment from all three Ellenville hose companies responded, with Napanoch dispatching a truck to Ellenville to stand by. Trucks returned to their stations about 5:30 p. m.

Civil Service Decision Was Up To School Board

In a recent article The Freeman reported that non-teaching employees of the city school system had been offered a choice of joining the State Civil Service or remaining with the Kingston Municipal Civil Service.

Robert S. Macdonald, assistant superintendent of schools, explained today that this was not the case.

The actual decision was made entirely by the Kingston Board of Education, the only group under the law with the authority to make such a decision.

Macdonald said the board elected to work under the jurisdiction of the State Civil Service Commission with regard to non-teaching employees — maintenance workers, cafeteria personnel, secretaries, etc.

Friday Mrs. Rockefeller sewed on the first union label ever attached to a woman's garment. She used a needle and thread to affix a label to a plaid cotton dress.

Afterward, David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, gave her a card of honorary membership in the union and a symbolic gold thimble and needle.

The garment industry agreed last March to use the ILGWU label.
